HUD Staff,

I am pleased to inform you that we will be launching a new HUD.gov website soon.

We heard loud and clear from the American public that HUD.gov in its current state does not meet their needs.

The site is confusing, disorganized, and inflated with more than 130,000 documents and web pages, many of which are outdated, redundant and do not efficiently and effectively provide resources to communities across the country.

The new HUD.gov website will focus first and foremost on serving the American public. It will have a cleaner and simpler design geared toward our partners and most vulnerable populations.

We are excited about the new site, and we look forward to the positive feedback!

Sincerely,
Andrew Hughes
Chief of Staff
